The Democrat.

NINETY millions of foreign gold is the amount estimated to be on hand in New York and Philadelphia.

Greece has accepted the concessions of Turkey upon the boundary question, and there is to be no fight after all.

This Mahone foolishness is likely to break the solid north if it continues much longer. The bargain and fraud are plain to be seen.

By the aid of Mahone and Arthur, the Senate Tuesday voted against going into Executive session, to consider the business for which the session was called.

Mahone's treachery is likely to unite the Democracy of Virginia. The people of that noble state will repudiate such vermin as Mahone, Riddleberger & Co.

In last week's DEMOCRAT we gave the political song so popular eighty years ago, of "JEFFERSON AND LIBERTY." Let our young Democratic friends lay it away for future reference.

The Tennessee Legislature settles repudiation by passing an act to provide for the debt and accrued interest. The total debt thus assumed aggregates twenty-five millions.

The Pond liquor bill, with its amendments, was tabled in the Lower House at Columbus, Tuesday, by a vote of 41 to 38. That settles it, for the present session, at least. Thus one by one these Republican temperance roses fall.

"Summit to our Mahone demands, or we will stop the wheels of the government," say the Republican Senators. It is the same old Federal spirit that met in the Hartford convention, and opposed and obstructed the government in the war with England.

MANFIELD went Democratic; Galion went Democratic; Piqua went ditto; Norwalk the same way; Upper Sandusky also; St. Clairville likewise, and Zanesville and other towns too numerous to mention, showing a decided gain all over Ohio.

Gen. James B. Steadman states the fact no doubt, when he says Mr. White-Land Reid never wrote anything about Shiloh or any other battle that he did not believe to be true. We may remark that if the first day's battle at Pittsburgh Landing was a great victory, there was a very erroneous impression in this part of the country for some time after the engagement.—Cin. Commercial.

Tax scheme of the Secretary of the Treasury, for taking advantage of the improved credit of the country, to reduce the interest on the bonded indebtedness, is made known in the call for bonds is sued yesterday. The outstanding 6 per cent bonds amount to $185,000,400, and are payable on the first day of July. All are called, and they will be paid on presentation, or stamped to draw interest at the pleasure of the Government at the rate of 3 per cent if they are received for that purpose on or before May 10th. The interest will be prepaid up to July 1st at the present rate. The holders of the 6 per cent can, therefore, get their bonds stamped at 3 per cent, and take the money the Government owes them, with interest to their maturity. We suppose there is law enough for this, but we would not know just where to find it.—Cin. Commercial, 12th.

In the Senate on Monday, Senator Call of Florida gave facts and figures as to the disfranchisement, under state laws, of white men in Massachusetts, Rhode Island and Connecticut, men of more intelligence than the negroes of the South, who are given suffrage unrestrained. Senator Vest of Missouri also spoke on Monday, and quoted from a late speech of Garfield, in which the President "would never shake hands across the bloody chasm with a confederate unless he was penitent." Mahone had not expressed penitence, having said he had no excuse to make. He read a letter of ex-Secretary John Sherman to collector of Internal Revenue Brady at Petersburg, Va., threatening him with diemissal if he supported the repudiation party. Sherman exhibited much uneasiness.

Secretary Windom on Monday issued his refunding order, proposing to take up the $195,000,400 in six per cent falling due this year, or continue them at 3 per cent bonds, at the pleasure of the Government. Holders of bonds can accept either proposition. They can take the money, or they can have a Government 3 per cent bond. Congress, by a decided majority, declared in favor of a 3 per cent bond, and this action of the Secretary is in direct conflict with the expressed will of the people's representatives. Of course it suits the Wall street syndicates with whom the Secretary was late in conference. Their idea was to issue a 3 per cent bond, and the point has been gained by Hayes's veto, and this action of the Garfield administration.

Shuster, Sugar Creek township; Amos Cobb and Thomas Votaw, Lexington township.

DEERFIELD.

Another of our old landmarks has passed away. The old Democrat war-horse, George Harzill, has passed "over that mysterious sea that never returns." He was known to every eye as the image of a homestead "sail." Mr. Harzill was an honored citizen of Deerfield, and the genial and kindly countenance of "Uncle George" will long be missed by his many friends. Our election passed off with much spirit and vim, and we have got them where the boy had the hen. The Republican caucus ticket was defeated by an independent ticket, supported by the better class of Republicans and by the Democrats. "How is that for a bit?" says the ballot and a fair count in Virginia. The following are the new officers elected: Trustees—J. W. Gillingham, F. D. Tibbals, Republican; J. S. Wilson, Democrat; Clerk—Isaac Wilson, Democrat; Treasurer—H. Muerman, Democrat; Assessor—A. J. Slack, Republican; Constables—F. M. Byers, Republican; J. W. Smith, Democrat. Pretty good for a township that gave Garfield 123 majority. How is that about local option? Bura.

JOHNSON'S NEW UNIVERSAL CYCLOPEDIA.

We have heard of this great work for some time, but never had an opportunity to examine it till now. Mr. Eiton, of Cleveland, called on us and we spent two or three hours in examining it and comparing it with others. We expected much, but our expectations were more than realized. We had Appleton's and felt pretty well satisfied, but Johnson's has so many additional features that we feel we must have it too.

The plan of it is different from other cyclopedias in many respects. It originated in the head of the late Mr. Greeley. There are more than 30 great editors, each having a department to which he gives his attention, and each employing many experts to write particular articles so that some 2,000 different men of talent have written for its 7,000 pages, whose names are signed to what they write. A very different thing from anonymous articles. President Barnard, of Columbia College, and Guyot, the great geographer, are editors in chief. But so many it is difficult to select. Mr. Eiton will call on our people and show the work itself. He sells it on his merits, and never urges people to buy if they don't want to. A great many have already furnished other cyclopedias, but we think they will want this too; and many others who were unable to do so on account of the high price will avail themselves of this which is much less. We would like to give some testimonials, but from so many of the greatest scholars in the world—colleges, universities, &c., who give it their endorsement and adopt it as authority, we scarcely know which to give. Perhaps the following, which was written some time ago, will show how the work stands in the estimation of scholars:

From the Faculty of Yale College and other distinguished gentlemen of New Haven, Ct. Johnson's New Universal Cyclopaedia presents the following important features: It is convenient for ready reference; its most important articles are original productions, prepared for this work by men who are well known to be distinguished in the several departments of learning which they represent, each article being signed by the writer; it embraces a wide range of subjects—about 2,000 in each volume—and is especially adapted to the needs of American readers. An examination of the first volume must convince any one that, as a table-book for the homes of the people and for the use of professional men, merchants and manufacturers, it will prove to be a work of great usefulness.

It is practically a geographical gazetteer, a biographical dictionary, a medical and legal manual, and a scientific repository. The treatment of the subjects is thorough and comprehensive, and at the same time simple and judiciously adapted to the requirements of general readers. A fortunate combination of circumstances has, under the energetic and persevering efforts of the Chief Editors, contributed to the securing of the co-operation of a large number of eminent writers, whose names will be recognized as among the first in the country in their respective branches of learning. The work contains a vast amount of useful knowledge, presented in a popular and convenient form, and at a moderate price.

THOMAS D. WOOLLEY, Ex-President of Yale College. NOAH PORTER, President of Yale College. Signed also by the remainder of the faculty.

ALLIANCE.

Miss Emma Burt, daughter of Rev. Burt, formerly pastor of the M. E. Church, has been in the city for the past few days visiting friends. On last Thursday morning a child of some German emigrants died on the train between here and Pittsburgh, and the family stopped off here to bury it. It was on the Alliance & Lake Erie Narrow Gauge Railroad and again on time. The now delayed them very much during the winter. Mr. Will Lane has accepted a position as salesman in a New York house and will leave with his family for New York in a few days. Mr. Nelson Miller, telegraph operator, and family are visiting in Minnesota and will be gone for some weeks. We learn the new counting factory is to occupy the old Cutler's Works building. It is now being fixed up and will begin work early in the season. Mr. Edgar Ship, who has been in the West for about two years, returned on Saturday. About three weeks ago he was taken dangerously ill in New Mexico, and Mr. Samuel Shimp, his father, was telegraphed to and started immediately to see him. We have not learned whether or not Edward contemplates returning to the West.

William Weidman, a brakeman on the Eastern Division of the P. & W. Road, met with a very unfortunate accident on Monday morning at New Galilee while making a coupling. His left hand was caught between the bumpers and completely crushed. He was brought home and Dr. Trease, the Company Surgeon, amputated it above the wrist. Mr. Weidman has been employed on the road for over twenty years and has met with several accidents. In January, 1880, he had the other hand crushed so badly that for some time it was thought it would have to be amputated, but it is finally saved.

His hearing is set for day.
